The word processor versions of the workbooks and checklists have been prepared using the Microsoft Office 365 Suite (Word 2013) and are in the DOCX file format, which was introduced in 2007. Consequently, in many cases they are NOT compatible with earlier versions on Microsoft Office or other word processors which do not support that file format. However, users of Microsoft Office XP, 2000 and 2003 can download a Compatibility Pack, by clicking here. By installing the Compatibility Pack you will be able to use Microsoft Office XP, 2000, or 2003 to open, edit, and save files using the file formats in newer versions of Word (DOCX), Excel (XLSX), and PowerPoint (PPTX). The PDF versions of the workbooks and checklists have been designed with form fields. Scouts may download these files and then type their notes into the form fields, and save their work locally. They have been tested successfully with the Adobe Acrobat Reader, the Foxit PDF Reader, and the Nuance PDF Reader. Each of those programs are available as free downloads. Please submit errors, omissions, comments or suggestions about the format of any of the WORKBOOKS to: Workbooks@USScouts.Org Comments or suggestions for changes to the wording of the requirements should be sent to the BSA advancement team at: Advancement.Team@Scouting.Org If you find copies of any of the workbooks we have prepared on any site other than sites maintained by the USSSP, they have been placed there without our permission, and we would be grateful to be notified of those cases. Page updated on: April 16, 2021 Scout Rank is the first rank earned by a young man or woman upon joining a Scouts BSA troop. The Scout rank requirements help a new Scout learn the basics of Scouting and get them off on a good start on the path to Eagle Scout. Sponsored If you are a parent and are new to Scouts BSA, you will find it helpful to familiarize yourself with the program so you can support your son or daughter. It is important to understand the role of the parent in this program. It is very different than the role of the parent in Cub Scouts. Find specific helps for some of the Scout rank requirements listed below. Some of these resources will just give the answers. Others will provide engaging ways for older Scouts to introduce these concepts to new Scouts. Scout Rank Requirement 1: Scouting Knowledge The First Class Scout Badge The three points at the top of the Fleur de Lis is like the north on an old compass. These stand for the three points of the Scout Oath. (Duty to God, Duty to Others, Duty to Self). Like a compass showing the way to a mariner at sea, these point the Scout in the right direction in life. The stars remind us of the outdoor aspects of the program. There are two stars, representing to ideals: truth and knowledge. The eagle represents the United States and stands for freedom, which we should be ready to defend. The scroll has the Scout motto: "Be prepared." The ends of the scroll are turned up like a smile which a Scout should have when doing cheerful service. The knot at the bottom is a reminder of the Scout Slogan: "Do a Good Turn Daily". Video Resources The Scout Oath, Law, Motto, and Slogan Scout sign, salute, and handshake Scout Rank Requirement 2: Advancement Video Resources Scout Rank Requirement 3: The Patrol Method Requirement 3 Helps and Answers The Patrol Method Read More Video Resource The Patrol Method Lord Baden-Powell, the founder of the Scouting movement, believed strongly in the patrol method. That is why this is covered as part of the Scout rank requirements. Learn about the the Patrol Method A patrol is a small group of Scouts BSA within a troop. They elect a patrol leader and function almost like a family within the troop. They divide up the chores to be done and work together as a group to meet their goals. They develop a patrol spirit and take pride in their accomplishments as a team. A patrol has a Patrol Leader and sometimes an Assistant Patrol Leader. These leaders provide direction to the patrol. All patrol members are expected to contribute though. For example, if the patrol is going camping a couple members might organized the gear, another might purchase the food, and so on. Usually assignments are made via a duty roster so that the jobs are fairly distributed. A very small troop might only have a single patrol. A large troop will have many patrols. Working within a group of this size ensures that everyone gets to participate and learn leadership skills. New Scouts might be a little intimidated by the Scoutmaster Conference, but they should not be. It helps to understand what it is and just think about it as a conversation. Read about it. More Resources for Scout Rank Requirements These bingo cards for Scouts BSA help familiarize Scouts with the Scout Law, Eagle required merit badges, some of the fun adventures they can look forward to, ranks, and more. Use them to help new Scouts familiarize themselves with the concepts for the Scout rank requirements. If you know somebody who is new to the Scouts BSA program, then this would be a great resource to give them an overview of the program. Note that this book only covers the Scouts BSA program, not Cub Scouts or Venturing. Also the name reflects that it was written before the Boy Scout program name changed, but the information all still applies. Merit badges give scouts the opportunity to investigate around 130 different areas of knowledge and skills. The merit badge program plays a major role in the scouting advancement program and participation can begin as soon as a scout registers with a troop. Each scout can explore topics from American Business to Woodworking as they have interest. The only limitations are their ambition and availability of adult merit badge counselors to offer instruction. Read More about the Scouts BSA merit badge process. Merit Badge Pamphlets: An official Boy Scouts of America merit badge pamphlet has been created for the BSA by topic authorities for each merit badge. The pamphlets contain requirements, introductory information and supplemental reference text. A scout can purchase pamphlets from BSA, find them in a troop library, or often-times check them out from a public library. There is also a Requirements Booklet with a merit badge list for quick reference. Merit Badge Counselors: Merit badge counselors are volunteers that have been selected, trained, and approved by council or district committees. They are knowledgeable in the topic and understand the goals of scouting and the merit badge program. Many districts have a directory of counselors. See this page for more info on becoming a merit badge counselor. Merit Badge Process: A scout decides they would like to earn a specific merit badge. They obtain approval to begin the merit badge from their Scoutmaster. The Scoutmaster identifies possible merit badge counselors. The scout identifies another scout, buddy, or family member that will be their partner to attend all meetings with the counselor to follow safe scouting guidelines. The scout then contacts the counselor to begin badge work. The counselor reviews the requirements with the scouts and they decide on projects to complete and a completion schedule. The counselor provides expertise, advice, guidance as needed until the scouts have completed the requirements. The merit badge counselor certifies completion of requirements and the merit badge patch is presented at a court of honor or troop meeting. See this page for more info on merit badges. Required Merit Badges: A scout can begin taking merit badges as soon as they join a troop, but no merit badges are required for advancement until First Class rank is achieved. Advancement to Star, Life, and Eagle all require completion of merit badges, service, and demonstration of responsibility. To reach Eagle rank, a scout must complete a total of at least 21 Boy Scout merit badges, 13 of which come from the Eagle-required merit badge list. Request New Merit Badge Topics If you feel another topic or activity should be added, you need to tell the Boy Scouts of America directly. For new merit badge ideas, send your request to: merit.badge@scouting.org See section 7.0.4.0 of this page for more info. Comments: Jun 02, 2014 - BrendanI just registered as a merit badge counselor for the first time and am wondering if any more experienced have suggestions? I know I have the technical knowledge of the badges, and I've done some work with Cubs, but not yet with the older boys. I know they need blue cards and assume they're supposed to get those from a Scout Master before meeting with me and I know I'll turn them away (until later) if they show up without a buddy. Beyond that, what do I need to know? Thanks! Jun 02, 2014 - Scouter Paul Jun 01, 2020 - Jim Johnson Writing is an essential life skill in the real world; indeed it seems essential for some merit badges. Perhaps a merit badge is called for. My son, who earned his Eagle in 1996(?), had written a story for his Jr. year English Class about his First Airplane Solo and also sent it to the Experimental Aircraft Association who published it in their EAA Magazine for Kids. That same year he attained Eagle, attained his Black Belt and soloed in a C-172. His uncle has published 5 Novels. Thanks Jim Johnson (Retired Civil Air Patrol Pilot) Aug 28, 2020 - Kathy Emory Do you have the pamphlet for the Diversity MB? Aug 28, 2020 - Scouter Paul @ Kathy - The "Diversity & Inclusion merit badge" (or whatever it will be named) was only announced as an idea on June 15 by the BSA. It takes quite awhile for a new merit badge to be defined, so I wouldn't expect it to be available in 2020. Dec 10, 2021 - Dr. John Buckley Where can I get a copy of the Geology Merit Badge book?
